

Guiding You Through the Maze of Dental Technology

Implementing technological tools is one of the best ways to increase dental practice revenue and efficiency. Without the right expertise, however, it is easy to stumble on costly pitfalls and obstacles. Adding to the challenges are Federal laws such as HIPAA and HITECH that add technical, physical, and administrative burdens on dentists.

Dentists need someone who not only understands technology but also the unique needs of dental practices.

Dr. Lorne Lavine, a former periodontist, is known as the leading authority on technology in the dental practice. Founder of The Digital Dentist, he has extensive hands-on experience with most practice management software, image management software, digital cameras, intraoral cameras, computers, networks, and digital radiography systems. Dr. Lavine has over 30 years invested in the dental and dental technology fields.

Dr. Lavine's timely and practical lectures empower and guide participants through the potentially confusing technological maze of running a dental office in the 21st century.
